

Storytelling at the Provincetown Playhouse, NYC

Sunday, February 9 3:00 PM

REGINA RESS with MICHAEL MOSS

BUTTONS FOR THE RESISTANCE AND OTHER LOVE STORIES

Regina Ress wears a red button affirming "CHOOSE LOVE" wherever she goes. It opens up a lot of conversations. As February is the month to celebrate love, Regina will share stories that explore some of its many forms, from romantic to unconditional, eros to agape. Joining Regina for this romp through the territory of love is jazz composer Michael Moss. As for her CHOOSE LOVE button, Regina muses, "If someone has a problem with that, they obviously have a problem."

Regina Ress

Michael Moss

Regina Ress, award winning storyteller, actor, author, filmmaker, and educator, has performed and taught from Broadway to Brazil, in English and Spanish, in settings from grade schools to senior centers, prisons to Carnegie Hall, homeless shelters to The White House. In 2014, her CD, with jazz comments by Michael Moss, won a Storytelling World award. Regina teaches applied storytelling at NYU and produces this long-running storytelling series at the Provincetown Playhouse. reginaress.com

Jazz composer Michael Moss, part of the downtown music scene for over 50 years, has led many musical groups (Accidental Orchestra, New York Free Quartet, Mike Moss/4 Rivers and Free Energy). CD releases include Helix, Free Play, In Between Gigs, Intervals and New York and Me with Regina Ress. Moss is the recipient a 2019 Lower Manhattan Cultural Council's Creative Engagement grant for the Accidental Orchestra to perform Qabbala::Entanglement. m2-theory.com

The Provincetown

133 MacDougal Street, New York City (between West 3rd Street & Washington Square)

Admission: Free. Box office opens at 2:00 PM; show is at 3:00 PM

Appropriate for adults and youth 12 and older

Information line: 212-998-5867

steinhardt.nyu.edu/programs/educational-theatre/storytelling-provincetown-playhouse