

Storytelling at the Provincetown Playhouse, NYC

Sunday, May 10, 2020 3:00 PM

JAMIE BRICKHOUSE

I REMEMBER MAMA & DADDY & BOOZE

Mama Jean was a Texan Elizabeth Taylor who never had a thought she didn't speak. Daddy Poo adored bikinis and martinis as much as his homosexual son. Jamie Brickhouse, called "a natural raconteur" by the Washington Post and "funny, touching, honest" by Charles Busch, tells darkly-comic, ribald stories about his flamboyant parents and overcoming his near-fatal love affair with booze. Ripped from his award-winning shows Dangerous When Wet and I Favor My Daddy, they're riveting, hilarious, wise, and deeply insightful.

Jamie Brickhouse

A National Storytelling Network Grand Slam champion, 4-time MothSLAM champ, New York Times-published memoirist, Jamie Brickhouse has been featured on PBS-TV's Stories from the Stage, The Moth Podcast, and tours the country with his multiple award-winning solo shows, Dangerous When Wet: Booze, Sex, and My Mother, based on his critically-acclaimed memoir, and I Favor My Daddy. He's been published in the Washington Post, Daily Beast, Salon, Huffington Post, and Out. jamiebrickhouse.com

The Provincetown

133 MacDougal Street, New York City (between West 3rd Street & Washington Square)

Admission: Free. Box office opens at 2:00 PM; show is at 3:00 PM

Appropriate for adults and youth 17 and older

Information line: 212-998-5867

steinhardt.nyu.edu/programs/educational-theatre/storytelling-provincetown-playhouse