Storytelling Magazine with Storytelling World
Index 2010-2012
Index Created March 2014 by Patricia Coffie

History: Yarnspinner, National Storytelling Journal, and Storytelling Magazine through Winter of 1997-98 were published by the national storytelling organization: National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling (1975-1993) (NAPPS) and that organization as subsequently renamed National Storytelling Association (1994-1998) (NSA). At that time, the national storytelling organization divided into the International Storytelling Center and the National Storytelling Membership Association (1999) (NSMA). The national storytelling organization was renamed the National Storytelling Network (2000 on) (NSN).

“The Wrapper” (1990-1992) and “Inside Story” (1996-1998) were departments of Storytelling Magazine meant to convey organization news.

Introduction: “Storytelling” literature increased with the introduction of publications by the national storytelling organization. Keeping this storytelling literature accessible is important. Having an index increases the value of any publication. A unified index increases the simplicity and success of searches.

Format: The main body of Storytelling Magazine with Storytelling World Index 2010-2012 consists of author, title, and subject entries to Storytelling Magazine and Storytelling World articles. Future supplements are planned using the same format. There is a set of rules and it may have a few exceptions to those evident in indexing guidelines used elsewhere.

Errors may be found, but can be corrected. Please check the actual issue before reporting an error. Publications did not cover all topics nor were all topics treated uniformly.

Abbreviations have been limited.

Access: The Index Supplement will initially be made available electronically as a read-only pdf by the National Storytelling Network. Requests for permission to reprint the Index should be addressed to National Storytelling Network in Kansas City, MO.

The subject index will identify items of interest in personal research on topics and storytellers. Some arbitrary decisions were made in assigning subject headings and in a few more things.

Many thanks to staff and volunteers who created various indices, issue by issue, through the years.

Many thanks to National Storytelling Network Board Members and Staff, especially Jane Crouse, for moving the Index along to publication and Karen Wollscheid for amazing technical work.
