Storytelling Magazine Index 1989-2009 with Storytelling World beginning 2000 Index Created October 2010 by Patricia Coffie

History: Yarnspinner, National Storytelling Journal, and Storytelling Magazine through Winter of 1997-98 were published by the national storytelling organization: National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling (1975-1993) (NAPPS) and that organization as subsequently renamed National Storytelling Association (1994-1998) (NSA). At that time, the national storytelling organization divided into the International Storytelling Center and the National Storytelling Membership Association (1999) (NSMA). The national storytelling organization was renamed the National Storytelling Network (2000 on) (NSN).

Storytelling Magazine replaced National Storytelling Journal in 1989 and included periodic issues of Storytelling World beginning in 2000.

“The Wrapper” (1990-1992) and “Inside Story” (1996-1998) were departments of Storytelling Magazine meant to convey organization news.

Introduction: “Storytelling” literature increased with the introduction of publications by the national storytelling organization. Keeping this storytelling literature accessible is important. Having an index increases the value of any publication. A unified index increases the simplicity and success of searches.

Format: The main body of Storytelling Magazine Index 1989-2009 with Storytelling World beginning 2000 consists of author, title, and subject entries to Storytelling Magazine and Storytelling World articles. Future supplements are planned using the same format. There is a set of rules and it may have a few exceptions to those evident in indexing guidelines used elsewhere.

Errors may be found, but can be corrected. Please check the actual issue before reporting an error. Publications did not cover all topics nor were all topics treated uniformly.

Abbreviations have been limited.

Access: The Index will initially be made available electronically as a read-only pdf by the National Storytelling Network. Requests for permission to reprint the Index should be addressed to National Storytelling Network, P.O. Box 795, Jonesborough, TN 37659. The National Storytelling Network will contact Patricia Coffie or her designate with regard to reprinting in any format.

The subject index will identify items of interest in personal research on topics and storytellers. Some arbitrary decisions were made in assigning subject headings and in a few more things.

Appendix 1: Awards

ORACLE Awards and Storytelling World Resource Awards Storytelling Magazine Index 1989-2009 with Storytelling World beginning 2000

Includes some awards not published in Storytelling Magazine. Awards were made through National Storytelling Association, National Storytelling Membership Association, and National Storytelling Network. No awards program existed during National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling.

“Awards” are granted and awarded and “Grants” are awarded and granted. The national storytelling organization makes both awards and grants and many but not all were reported in national storytelling periodicals.

For the purposes of the Index, these definitions are being used.

“Awards” is a category used to show those instances where the national storytelling organization provided recognition for excellence in storytelling, leadership, and service.

“Grants” is a category used to show those instances where the national storytelling organization provided funding for projects.

Please remember that not all awards and grants were reported in the national storytelling organization print publications. An effort has been made to identify all awards and grants made by the national storytelling organization whether reported in the print publications or not and all Storytelling World Resource Awards reported in Storytelling Magazine and Storytelling Magazine with Storytelling World.

Not all awards were annual.

Key

Calendar months are shown by first three letters of name of month.

Form of Reference:

Periodical Title Issue by Month or Designation Year: Page or Pages.

Some arbitrary decisions were made in assigning subject headings and in a few more things.

“National storytelling organization” is used to cover publications under these name variations.

NAPPS is National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling.

NSA is National Storytelling Association.

National Storytelling Membership Association is National Storytelling Membership Association.

NSN is National Storytelling Network.

Appendix 2: Grants

Storytelling Magazine Index 1989-2009 with Storytelling World beginning 2000

Grant Funding Available Through National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling, National Storytelling Association, National Storytelling Membership Association, and National Storytelling Network

“Awards” are granted and awarded and “Grants” are awarded and granted. The national storytelling organization makes both awards and grants and many but not all were reported in national storytelling periodicals.

For the purposes of the Index, these definitions are being used.

“Grants” is a category used to show those instances where the national storytelling organization provided funding for projects.

“Awards” is a category used to show those instances where the national storytelling organization provided recognition for excellence in storytelling, leadership, and service.

Please remember that not all awards and grants were reported in the national storytelling organization print publications. An effort has been made to identify all awards and grants made by the national storytelling organization, whether reported in the print publications or not.

Not all grants were annual.

Sponsored Member Program

The Sponsored Member Program enables National Storytelling Network’s individual, associate, and affiliate group members to apply for funds under its non-profit umbrella and thus makes new sources of funding available to them. National Storytelling Network fiscal sponsorship complies with IRS regulations for donations by foundations and corporations, and also enables individual donors to direct their contributions to a non-profit organization and receive a tax deduction while supporting storytelling projects.

Appendix 3: Stories and Poems Appearing in National Storytelling Journal and Storytelling Magazine, 1984-2009, with Storytelling World beginning 2000.

While these stories and poems have been published in their entireties in National Storytelling Journal or Storytelling Magazine or Storytelling World, that does not mean permission has been granted for a storyteller to use these stories as published for their own telling. The stories and poems and a brief hint of origin have been included in the Index. Permission must be obtained for the use of any or all as published.

Periodical Title Issue by Month or other Designation Year: Page or Pages.

Terms specifically used by the author have been used in the listings. "Indian" was used by one author to indicate people who might be categorized as "American Indian," "Native American," or "First Nations' People." The stories shared belonged to peoples of the continent of North America, not just of the United States, so the author's term, "Indian," was used.

Some arbitrary decisions were made in assigning subject headings and in a few more things.
